

Biltmore Wine Company Fact Sheet

Overview

Located in Asheville, North Carolina, Biltmore House and its grand estate were the vision of George W. Vanderbilt. Designed by Richard Morris Hunt in 1895, America's largest home is a 250-room French Renaissance château, exhibiting the Vanderbilt family's original collection of furnishings, art, and antiques. Today, Biltmore is open to guests and includes acres of formal gardens, outdoor activities, shopping, and dining. Among the many attractions on the estate is the nation's most-visited winery, started in 1977 and housed in a converted dairy barn.

In keeping with the Vanderbilt tradition of gracious hospitality and progressive agricultural practices, Biltmore produces award-winning wines using fruit harvested from its 94-acre vineyard as well as fruit from partners in North Carolina and California.

Wines

Biltmore ranks in the top 1% of the U.S. wine business and produces more than 170,000 cases of wine annually. The Biltmore wine collection includes the Biltmore Collection, Century Collection, Biltmore Reserve Collection, Antler Hill Collection, and Biltmore Estate Sparkling Collection.

Location

Biltmore Winery is tucked among the Blue Ridge Mountains in Asheville, North Carolina, on the historic estate of George W. Vanderbilt.

Estate

Today, Biltmore consists of 8,000 acres. Within the estate's acreage, 94 acres is devoted to an on-site vineyard. To meet supply and demand, Biltmore supplements its harvest with the finest grapes from carefully selected partners in North Carolina and California.
